UOF - Generating access tokens for Unified Odds Feed

The first step towards generating a token is logging in to https://ctrl.betradar.com/ with your provided credentials.

On the landing page for CTRL you will need to click the "configuration" button (usually found in the topright corner).

Pressing this link should bring you to the next part of the generation, which looks something like this:

Go ahead and click the Unified Odds Feed access token button.

Now you should be on the key generation page. If you already have access tokens generated - these will be displayed in a table on your screen. If you have no tokens generated, click the "GENERATE TOKEN" button at the top of the menu to get your access token.
